Deer Checking Stations Set Up Again By DNR

LANSING—Successful deer hunters can, again this year, have their deer checked by wildlife biologists from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and receive a free shoulder patch indicating success in 1974.

Deer checking stations will be established at four locations. Locations and inclusive operating dates are:

Roadside rest area north of Paris on U.S. 131, November 15-18; Roadside rest area south of White Cloud on M-37, November 15-18; Roadside rest area north of Alma on U.S. 27, November 15-19; and First roadside rest area south of U.S. 10 on I-75 near Bay City, November 15-20.

For those who can't stop at highway checking stations, deer will also be examined at selected southern Michigan game areas and at DNR district headquarters at Baraga, Crystal Falls, Escanaba, Newberry, Gaylord, Cadillac, Mio, Baldwin, Gladwin, Grand Rapids, Plainwell, Jackson, Rose Lake, Pontiac Lake and Imlay City.

Deer may also be taken to DNR's field office located in Caro with shoulder patches available at all locations.

These deer checks enable biologists to determine age, sex and antler measurements of the animal. More important, they also serve as an indicator of the condition of Michigan's deer herd.

During 1973's firearm season, almost 10,000 deer were inspected at the check points.

Through statistics gathered last year, the DNR determined it would not be necessary to again operate a station at St. Ignace and that two different checking periods within hunting season were not needed.

"How do you turn wood into bricks? Can you build a fire in a cardboard fireplace? Is there a tiny plastic skunk anywhere around? A go-go girl costume - any former go-go girls in Grayling? Did Bogart ever wear an army - green trenchcoat? Where are the carpet samples?"

The players are gathering props, wood, and costumes for their play scheduled to go on from November 21st to November 23rd.

Consumers Caution Hunters On Shooting At Electric Insulators

Cadillac — Marksmanship practice should be confined to certified targets and not electric line insulators, warns M. D. Porter, Consumers Power Company's Cadillac district manager.

"The incidents of electrical power being lost to an area resulting from errant gunshots is increasing at an alarming rate," Porter said. "When several thousand customers have their power interrupted because of one careless or thoughtless hunter it is indeed an unfortunate situation and could become dangerous."

Two separate incidents in Western Michigan resulted in 6,800 electric customers being out of service for periods ranging up to several hours. Both incidents were caused by an insulator being shot off the crossarm of a utility pole. The porcelain or glass insulators keep the electricity from flowing into the crossarms of the poles.

When the insulators are shot off, they shortcircuit the electricity and cause the interruption of service. In some cases, the pole burns causing possible fire damage to the surrounding area.

In the past year, the company has investigated 60 incidents of service interruptions due to [See Consumers on page 12]

An Apology

Our apologies to Dean Welch, member of the County Board of Commission for District 1, for inadvertently leaving him out as a returning commissioner along with Fred Kauffman, in last week's election story.

It should be noted that Mr. Welch was the only commissioner to survive the challenge of another candidate, when he won reelection in the primary by defeating George Dunckley for the Democratic nomination.

The seven man board will have two returning members. The Avalanche regrets the error.

Veterans' Note

The Marine Corps League will have its Field Service Officer John Cummings, at the Court House in Grayling, on November 13 and 27 and December 11, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Novel twist: Don't vote . . . unless

Before the 1974 general election gets too far away, I'd like to sound off on one purely personal prejudice. Campaigns that urge us to "Get out and vote, get out and vote, get out and vote" leave me cold.

Sure, a much larger percentage of voters than turned out Nov. 5 should exercise their ballot rights. We shouldn't be satisfied until we reach close to 100 percent participation by concerned informed citizens.

But those two adjectives — "concerned and informed" — are the key to my thesis here.

There is no civic merit in merely voting. However, there is considerable merit in casting an informed vote.

The November 1974 election was a complicated one for Michigan citizens, what with all the statewide, congressional, legislative and local candidates — as well as the statewide propositions involving billions of dollars, and the relatively faceless unknown candidates for highly important state judicial posts and state educational posts.

Being informed about all these elements of an election is a tough job — but a rewarding and necessary job nonetheless.

My thesis is that if a voter is not informed about the candidates, is not educated about the issues, has not taken the trouble to find out what's involved in an election, then that voter should not vote. That voter should stay home.

If you haven't taken the trouble to learn what's involved in an election, then don't take the trouble to go to the polls; if you're an uninformed voter, don't inflict your ignorance on those who are concerned enough to inform themselves.

Voting by itself does not make good citizenship; informed voting, on the other hand, is an essential ingredient of good citizenship.

There's a big difference between the two.

The solution, of course, is for voters to arm themselves with information; the avenues to fill this informational role are readily at hand.

Newspapers generally do a good conscientious job in making information about an election available to the voters.

Radio and television, generally speaking, are more and more accepting a similar role.

None of the media can force voters to eat at the informational banquet, but they can — and generally do — make the menu available.

And the candidates themselves — as well as the political parties and such organizations as business and professional groups, and local and statewide union organizations — go to great lengths to inform and convince potential voters about the merits of and demerits of issues and candidates.

Such information, of course, must be taken with a grain of salt, and — for the sake of balance and genuine knowledge — sometimes opposite views must be sought. They can be found.

Information about election personalities and issues that appears in the public media also should be analyzed carefully, and — if presented from a point of view — countering information should be sought.

Try as they might, writers and commentators simply cannot be objective 100 percent of the time in 100 percent of the cases.

And to make matters worse, some writers and commentators don't even attempt objectivity.

All in all, going after pertinent information, and then sorting it out, and then making decisions based on applied knowledge is a tough thing for most folks to do — especially when citizenship is a part-time activity at best for most of us.

But just such hard work is essential to sound government.

Nobody promised that liberty would be easy.

Edna Brown

The exuberant Edna Brown, the swing-inest gal in town, is billed as a vocalist and comedienne. They say she's a little bit of Sophie Tucker, Rusty Warren and Satchmo. But the truth is she's just not like anyone else but Edna Brown.

She's tall, dark, and gal-some, and how she belts out your favorite songs.

She's the idol of the mod mob with her renditions of the latest juke tunes. Dads get misty when she does Sophie's, "Some of These Days" and her Jolson medley. Real jazz addicts dig her Basin Street and St. Louis Blues. She rocks 'em with Mame.

As if all of that wasn't enough, she's a very very funny gal.

Those Miserable Tax Collectors

To find happiness in their work, tax collectors, particularly federal tax collectors since they take the biggest bite out of everyone's income, must surely have a solid streak of sadism at least 8-inches wide right up the middle of their backs. Why, did you know those ornery tax collectors even take the joy out of life for the inveterate gambler who makes a big win after perhaps a lifetime of losing?

A tax newsletter points out that if you play the horses and win over $600 at the racetrack of your choice, an Internal Revenue Service man will probably be there to insist that you declare the winnings immediately. Further, it seems that if you win a large amount like $20,000 you will be able to deduct the losses you suffered on bum horses or bad cards only if you have kept an accurate record of them that will stand up in court. How many people who cash in on a long shot are likely to have maintained a meticulous record of all their failures? Let's face it, the tax collector is likely to be the real winner if you strike it lucky. If you can't beat 'em join 'em—become a tax collector.

MT. PLEASANT—Local efforts in Northern Michigan communities have now raised $142,428.70 for the construction of public television station WCML-TV, Channel 6.

The new interim-total, announced Wednesday, (Nov. 6) by Central Michigan University, accounts all contributions and pledges received through Nov. 1.

The figure includes cash receipts of $68,671.70, pledges totaling a $23,757.00 and a $50,000.00 joint challenge gift from the Jesse Besser Fund, Inc., and Besser Foundation of Alpena.

Some $250,000 in private money is needed to construct the new station, to be located near Atlanta in Montmorency County.

Planners hope to have the station constructed and in operation by mid-1975. Once operational, it will serve approximately 300,000 residents of 23 Northern Michigan counties.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

From Calvary Baptist Church

YOUTH PROBLEMS

"Our youth now loves luxury. They have bad manners, contempt for authority, disrespect for older people. Children nowadays are tyrants. They no longer rise when their elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble their food and tyrannize their teachers." Does the above quote sound familiar? It was written by Socrates over twenty-three hundred years ago, or four hundred years before the birth of Christ. Adults have always been critical of youth.

We become more conservative and critical toward youth as we grow older. We forget our own youth and the idealism which directed much of our thinking and actions during those years. We have become realists who cannot share in the dreams and visions of youth. We have adopted all the cultural traits of our society and cannot understand why our own youth cannot do likewise. Why do young people want to dress, talk and act differently? Adults cannot understand.

Therefore, before we become critical of modern youth, let us acknowledge some of the natural tendencies of young people from every generation. Let us remember our own teenage years. Then, let us approach them with love and understanding, rather than contempt, rejection and scorn.

The pressures on young people today are far greater than they were just one generation ago. They were born into a world threatened by atomic warfare, world shortages of food and other materials, environmental pollution, economic injustice throughout the world and a growing rejection of the God of the Bible. No generation has faced a greater challenge against living right than our present youth. They are confronted on all sides by drugs, alcohol, broken homes, immorality, lying, theft, violence, pornography and by bad examples set by adults in all these areas.

It is clear from the Bible that these problems shall increase in the last day: "This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affection, truce-breakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good, Traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God; Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away. For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts, Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth." II Tim 3:1-7.

Since the above description is characteristic of a growing number of adults today within our society, how can we expect children to grow up and be any different?

The Christian has a hope for youth problems: "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." The promise of this verse may not always be fulfilled during the teenage years and early adulthood, but if the parent has been faithful in training the child in Bible truth, the eventual reward is sure. The word of God will not return void. Are you giving your child Bible training? It is the best life insurance available today.

Dear Whitney:
On October 29 I had the opportunity to speak to the student body of the Crawford-AuSable High School as a part of the observance of Student Government Day.
I believe the Avalanche is the appropriate place to convey these comments to the people of the Grayling area.
During twenty years of teaching, almost as long in local government, and two years in the legislature, I have not had the pleasure of addressing a more attentive, interested group of citizens.
We are aware that our schools are a reflection of their community. In view of this, the people of your community in my estimation, can take great pride in the youngsters they have produced.
These young people are the future leaders of our great state. I think we will be leaving it in good hands.
Best regards,
Ralph

Would you mind if I wrote a few words about TV commercials? Or would you rather talk about diarrhea?

If you understand that paragraph, you're watching too much TV.

The intellectuals say any amount of TV is too much, except maybe a geometry vs zoology debate on public TV. You know it's public TV if there are no commercials and you can't get a decent picture.

I am no intellectual, so I measure my TV watching by that chubby jerk who wants to say a few words about diarrhea. If I see him more than once in one sitting, I know I have been watching too long. This isn't exactly a scientific measurement, but it makes sense.

This diarrhea commercial is so revolting, no TV station could be stupid enough to show it more than once a month, preferably on a holy day of fast and abstinence.

The chrome domes insist they never watch TV except for Alistair Cooke and specials about the River Nile. My dome is so mushy I sometimes watch 2 TV sets at once.

During the recent World Series I had baseball on one TV and football on the other. I also listened to a 2nd football game on radio and read the newspaper. And I would have played some 2-handed euchre with my wife except she left the house, screaming.

To me, that's the beauty of TV. It is totally nonabsorbing. It is impossible for me to watch TV without reading at the same time. An occasional glance at the set keeps me up with the plot and the length of skirts (since pantsuits ruined the world, I get a lot more reading done). During one series of commercials on the Johnny Carson Show, I read all of "War and Peace."

Currently my favorite commercial stars the most beautiful girl in the world. Her handsome husband says: "This is my wife and I love her...she keeps looking so good by taking Geritol regularly." Which prompted me to start hanging around the Geritol counter in the corner drug-store, in search of Truth in Advertising. I am prepared to ask a Geritol beauty if she needs help carrying her bottle home. So far the action has been exceedingly slow. I don't mind risking a slap in the face, but not from Lawrence Welk's mother.

The bravest commercial is brought to you by the Schlitz people. They sell gusto. "When you only go around once, you should reach for the gusto in life." It also comes in bottles and cans.

This, filmed message shows 2 drunks on a tugboat. They can't get the engine started. It keeps belching smoke and sparks while they laugh uproariously and spill gusto all over each other.

I call this commercial brave because Schlitz is not afraid to blow suds at the Boy Scouts, the Red Cross and other stuffy institutions usually revered by Americans everywhere. You probably think the right thing to do is stay sober, save energy, fight pollution and practice safety in the water. But that's no way to grab gusto, you dummy. You only go around once.

What would happen if a guy drank Geritol with gusto? Probably something that chubby jerk would want to say a few words about.

Onward and Upward.

Thanksgiving Lottery Bonus

Ten thousand turkeys (10,000) will be offered as special Thanksgiving Bonus prizes from the Michigan Lottery at the Nov. 21 weekly drawing.

Only 50 cent tickets (dated Nov. 21) matching the single 3-digit bonus number (in either box) selected Nov. 21 qualify for the bonus prize. Tickets for that drawing are on sale at 8,000 agent locations around the state.

One out of every 500 ticket buyers, on the average, will win a turkey, making this the most ambitious bonus ever attempted by the Lottery. The chances of winning a prize of any kind will be greater for the Nov. 21 drawing than ever before.

Bonus winners will be instructed to take their winning ticket directly to any one of nearly 2,000 food stores participating as redemption centers for this bonus only. Winners receive $10 credit for the purchase of a turkey or other merchandise. Winning bonus tickets cannot be redeemed for cash.

The Nov. 21 drawing marks the start of the Bureau of State Lottery's third operational year. More than 2,000,000 winners have shared more than $130 million in prizes since the first drawing on Nov. 24, 1972.

The fascinating window

It wasn't much as stained glass windows go. But for me it held a strange fascination.

I guess it was the letters that puzzled me. The first was obviously "A". The second was trying to be "Q" or possibly "O" but didn't quite make it. And if the book portrayed were the Bible—why not put something on its pages that made sense?

It was Grandma who explained it simply. The New Testament was originally written in Greek. In the Greek alphabet, Alpha, like our letter "A," was the first letter. Omega the last. For centuries Christians have treasured these two letters as a symbol of God who said in Scripture:

"I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending . . ."

That sums up why the Bible, revealing to men God's truth, is the first and last word in daily reading.

Chamber Sends Brochures To Cleveland, Ohio

The Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce made the first quantity shipment of the new 1975 Brochure/Business Directory to Cleveland on Friday.

The Brochure went to the Cleveland Winter Sports Fair which starts in the Cleveland Public Auditorium on November 14th. The brochures will be distributed by the Michigan Tourist Council and the East Michigan Tourist Association which have a large booth at this Winter Sports Fair.

Starting in January, the Chamber will begin shipments of the Brochure to the various Travel Shows in the Midwest where the Michigan Tourist Council and East Michigan Tourist Association will be promoting Michigan as an ideal vacationland.

There's an organization working in the United States determined to help us make fewer of these and less of this.

It's NAPA, the National Automotive Parts Association. NAPA is the number one organization supplying automotive replacement parts in the United States.

And NAPA is right in step with the sweeping changes facing the automotive industry and the car owner right now.

NAPA has already taken positive, aggressive steps to meet the challenge of cleaning up our environment by supplying parts to keep our cars running longer and cleaner.

Today's critical energy shortage and now safety regulations offer additional challenges to the car owner. To better understand the various systems of your car, how they work, and how to keep them working... look for the NAPA sign where you'll find quality replacement parts and top technicians who have the know-how to use these parts in making lasting repairs. And, they can give you sound advice on how to avoid those repairs again and explain how you can get more from your car. Let's become responsible about our cars. Together we'll make a lot less junk and pollution. And a cleaner United States.

Jack Pine's Stump

After last week's column appeared a man approached me and said he liked it. I disagreed with him, but then I disagreed with almost everyone. However, quite a few other people said the same thing. Actually, Jack Pine was in an utterly rotten mood when he wrote it - so much so that Editor Whitey felt compelled to edit my efforts. He should have, too, for what he cut out was really bad and shouldn't have been printed in ANY paper - or even certain magazines.

Anyway, I'm in a much better mood this week, a fact which probably won't change the tenor of this column one teeny-weeny bit. Maybe that is because I just found out that a whole bunch of local people are going to "surprise" me on my birthday (last Monday). I really, at this point, don't know what is going to happen, but you can bet that it won't be a Mickey Mouse affair. I would also imagine that on Tuesday I will wish that I had never been born.

-JP-

"Deer Season" opens on Friday. Goody, but I could care less. At one time I used to guide for deer hunters in rifle season, but I gave it up. The people I worked for were from downstate or out of state, and they paid me very well indeed. But they had no knowledge of the woods or the game they were after. My people, like many of those who come here, had fancy red suits, never shaved, played cards most of the time and carried knives long enough to clean an elephant (using two hands). I've also seen the same type people in local bars who carry exposed side-arms, which I understand is legal in certain circumstances. You know, actually, I feel most of these un-shaven, expensive-account types (and others who are doing it on their own) are just trying to get away from their wives, kids and responsibilities. Some are sincere deer hunters, there can be no question about that, but the majority are on a party - looking for women, booze or a good poker hand. Once in a while this type even looks for deer. But rarely, I guess what really bugs me is that when this type of rifle hunter goes out and sees a deer, he shoots at it. If the deer doesn't fall on the spot, he may look for it for about five minutes, then go back to camp. And maybe some deer is dying out in the woods. In fact, this kind of character may even try to buy a deer from some local person. I know, that kind has tried to buy from me. My response could never be printed.

-JP-

I am certainly not blasting all rifle hunters-especially not after I have killed quite a few myself. I am only mad at a selected few - those who take their cleaned deer home, show it off to the neighbors and family and then take it to the city dump. Every few years, one of the papers downstate will publish an article about the number of deer in some local dump. Well, I guess that is what gets me going every November. (Of course my increasing age every November doesn't help too much).

Gotta go check my rifle now; Going hunting - hunting not killing. There's a big difference and you better believe it from...

Board of Commissioners

Meeting of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners continued and held in the Court House in the City of Grayling on October 18, 1974.

Meeting called to order by Chairman Longworth. Roll Call. James Bourrie, Lawrence Gust, Fred Kauffman, Earl H. Longworth, Bernard Maurer, Dean Welch, Albert Westervelt—All Present.

John Huss, Prosecuting Attorney, appeared before the Board in regards to several items in his budget. He requested some travel allowance, after which there was some discussion.

Michigan Employment Security Commission registration report to determine liability of the county was discussed. January 1, 1975 is the starting date for all governmental units to begin paying unemployment compensation benefits to their employees, except for elected officials and appointed board members.

Motion by Bourrie, second by Welch to adopt Choice No. 1 to provide for Unemployment Insurance coverage. Roll Call. All Aye. Motion Carried.

Choice #1-CONTRIBUTING EMPLOYER-the facility pays 2.7 percent of the first $4200 of each employee's salary for four years. In the fifth year, the percentage could go up or down based on claim experience. The advantage of this system is that during the first four years you cannot pay more than 2.7 percent and MESC provides the administrative services. The disadvantage is that 2.7 percent (during the first 4 years) is a huge sum of money and, if the percentage goes up after the 4th year, then the amount of money becomes even more huge.

Dog Law administration was discussed. Motion by Welch, second by Gust, to accept bids from Richard Selthoffer and Robert Chrisman for the construction of a dog pound building at the cost of $4,800.00. Roll Call. Welch, Gust, Bourrie, Kauffman, Longworth, Maurer, Westervelt—All Aye. Motion Carried.

APPORTIONMENT COMMITTEE REPORT by Gust. Your Committee on Apportionment to whom was referred the matter of apportioning the several amounts of money to be raised have examined all certificates, statements, papers and records which have been presented to it, relative to taxes which need to be raised and hereby direct that the assessment rolls of the proper townships and city, in proportion to the taxable property in the several townships and city, be as follows.

Band Performs at Senior Citizens Party

The Genesee County Senior Citizens Orchestra from Flint, furnished the music for the dinner-dance held at the American Legion Hall on October 22nd. The 150 senior citizens in attendance enjoyed dancing to all old and familiar tunes following a social hour, a delicious roast beef dinner and an after dinner program. Mr. John Alef, President of Commission on Aging Board, was master of ceremonies. Dr. Natalie Traeger, PHD, State Director of Grants and Management for the Services to the Aging, spoke on the State and Regionalization of Aging programs and how this relates to local programs in regard to fundings. She stressed the necessity of local in-kind before the local Commission on Aging can hope to apply for State funds. The Commission on Aging presented Mrs. Gould with a corsage of yellow roses. Fred Kauffman made the presentation.

The dining room was decorated in a fall and Halloween motif with clever decorations and favors made by the Craft Department under the direction of Genevieve Hill. Everyone truly enjoyed the evening and express a desire for a similar party again in the spring. The orchestra was really great and we wish to thank them for coming to Grayling to help us celebrate our fifth year birthday. It was a lovely party.

Editor's Mailbox

To the Editor:
I would like to thank the Voters who helped to pass Proposal "B", the Viet Nam Service Bonus.

As a combat veteran the passing of this act entitles me to a $600.00 bonus. The money is appreciated and will help our family budget greatly. But just as important to me, is the fact that the majority of you voters, regardless of many different views of the war did not forget the veteran. Even with the economy in it's present situation, inflation and all the rest of it, you would still not forget the veteran.

To these people I give my thanks and heartfelt appreciation.

Save money this winter.

Cut your heating costs up to 17% with our official insulation program.

Last fall, at the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, Michigan Consolidated introduced a low-cost home ceiling insulation program designed to conserve Natural Gas and cut heating costs up to 17%.

How successful has the program been? Well, in the past 10 months, more than 37,700 homeowners have installed ceiling insulation and, as a result, over one billion cubic feet of Natural Gas per year is being conserved. That's enough to heat over 6,500 additional homes this winter. And, that's why we're continuing our insulation program again this fall. Because now is the time to insulate and save.

The heart of our program is simply this: Install six inches of ceiling insulation in your home. It's a quick, easy and inexpensive project that most homeowners can accomplish by themselves for about $100.

How can you get the job done? First, you can do it yourself, and we'll gladly provide a free handbook that tells you how. Secondly, you can have it done by an insulation contractor and, if you wish, we will provide you with a list of qualified firms. Or, third, we can have the job done for you through one of our participating subcontractors. The cost is often under $200 for homes with less than 1,000 square feet of ceiling area.

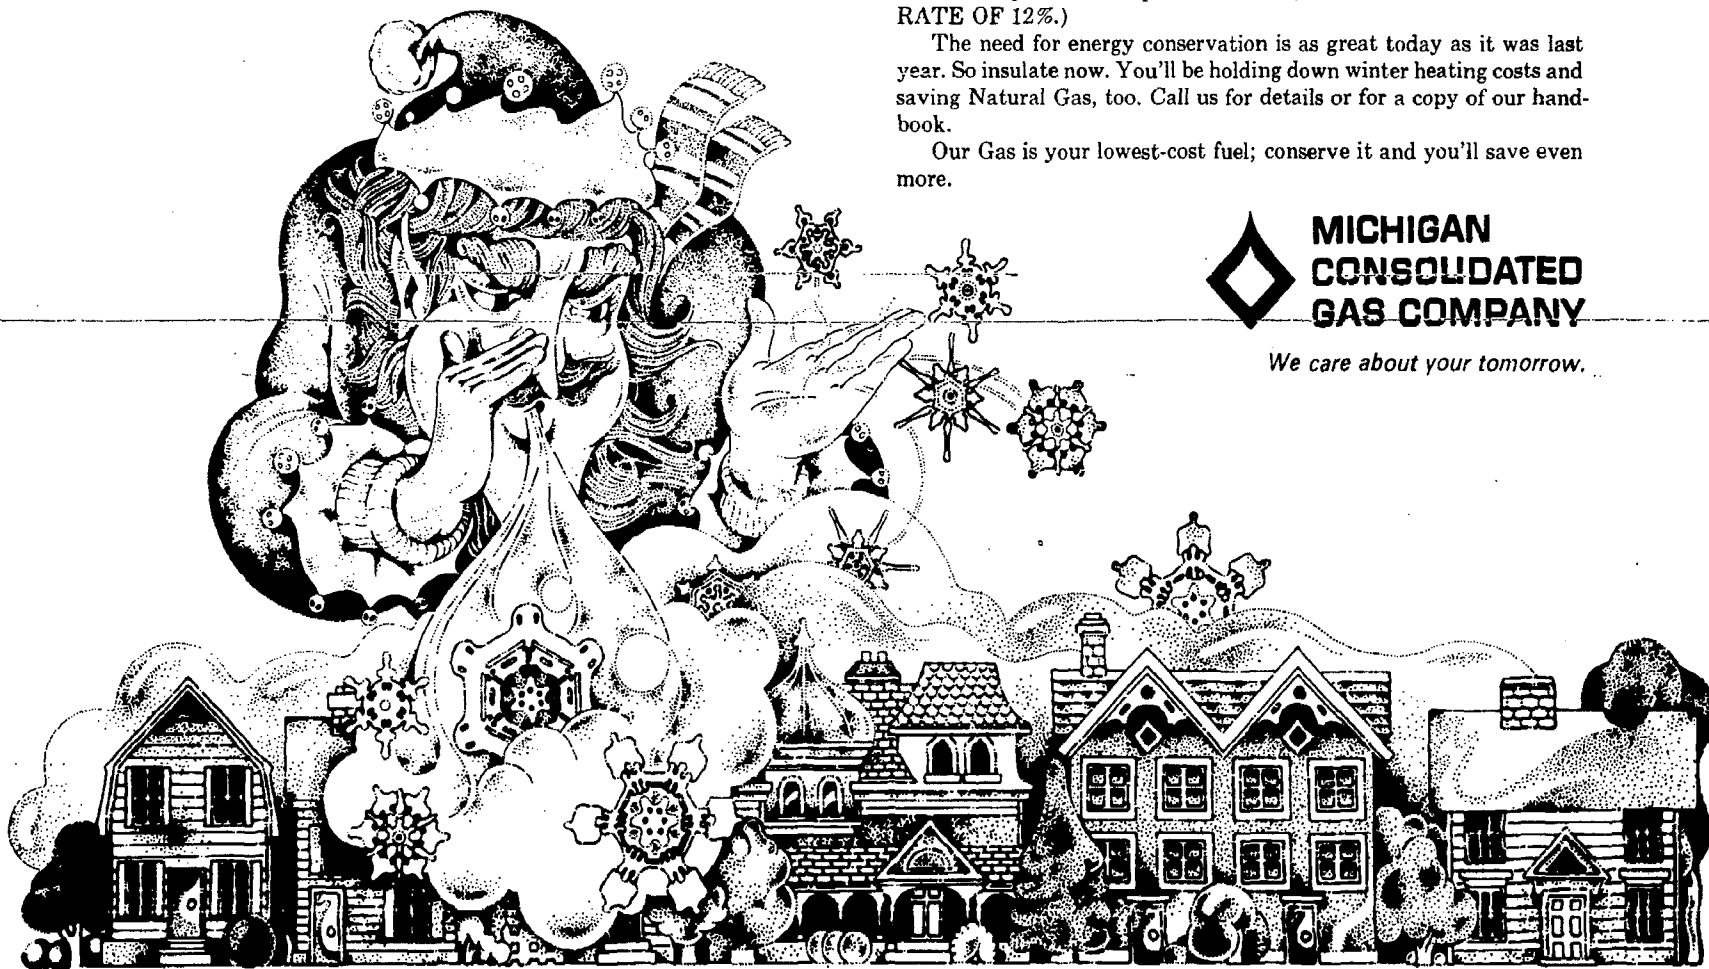

If you want the job done through one of our participating subcontractors, we have a payment plan to suit every budget. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay over an extended period at an interest rate of 1% monthly on the unpaid balance. (ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OF 12%.)

The need for energy conservation is as great today as it was last year. So insulate now. You'll be holding down winter heating costs and saving Natural Gas, too. Call us for details or for a copy of our handbook.

Our Gas is your lowest-cost fuel; conserve it and you'll save even more.

We care about your tomorrow.

Soil Law Takes Effect January 1, 1975

By Willard Bosserman

The Soil and Sedimentation Control act, takes effect the first of the year. It will be up to the counties to enforce the law. I have been working with both Crawford and Roscommon Counties in getting their general rules in order to enforce the act.

One part of the law which we tried to get around, but can't, is that a permit will be needed by anyone making a soil disturbance within 500 feet of a water course or lake. Therefore, anyone planning on building a house within 500 feet of a lake or stream will have to obtain a permit from the enforcing official. In Crawford County the zoning administrator is the enforcing official. He is Roy Papefus. Roscommon County has not designated an enforcing agency as yet, but is in the process. I expect them to have this taken care of by the time it is necessary to enforce the law.

In setting fees, we have tried to keep them to the bare minimum to cover the costs of administering the law. I am suggesting a permit fee of $10 for a dwelling within 500 feet of a lake or stream with an additional inspection fee of $10. If there are unusual amounts of grading or filling necessary, then additional inspections may be needed at $10 per inspection. Anytime a soil disturbance of one acre or more is planned or within 500 feet of water, the Applicant must present a plan demonstrating that no soil or sediment will leave the premises.

Any township or county that issues building permits must notify the enforcing officer of applications for building permits within 500 feet of a lake or stream.

Both counties are trying to cut down on duplication as much as possible.

Last Winter For Studs In Tires

LANSING—The winter of 1974-75 will be the last in Michigan for snow tires equipped with super-hard metal studs, the Department of State Highways and Transportation has reminded motorists.

The last "Season" for conventional metal studs made of tungsten carbide begins Dec. 1 and ends April 1, 1975. From then on, the only traction devices permitted will be those complying with rules developed by the Department under a 1973 state law regulating use of studded tires.

The new rules permit devices which do no more than 25 per cent as much damage to highways as the tungsten carbide studs.

The studs now in use cause severe damage, rubbing out pavement markings and anti-skid materials applied at high-accident locations. They also wear ruts which can fill with water during storms causing vehicles to hydro-plane and go out of control. Tests have shown studded tires reduce stopping distances only on glare ice and increase them on wet or dry pavement.

Tires now equipped with studs can be used beyond this winter if the studs are removed.

gunshots damaging insulators, transmission lines or substations. It has cost the utility over $18,000 to repair this damage.

"The statistic we are most concerned about is that nearly 52,870 customers have experienced service interruptions because of errant gunshots during the past year," Porter said.

Porter pointed out that heating systems are knocked out of service when the electricity is interrupted and that an energized line that falls to the ground could cause a brush fire or seriously injure anyone who comes into contact with it.

He also cautioned that public health and safety agencies could be unable to react to an emergency if their electric power is lost.

Porter said that most incidents of gunshot damage occur in rural areas, but lately several cases have occurred near larger communities.

Consumers Power is continuing to patrol electric transmission and distribution lines to discourage marksmen from using the insulators and lines for target practice.

Also, the company has standing reward offers for information resulting in conviction of persons who damage Consumers Power equipment.

Company records show that the greatest number of gunshot damage incidents are reported in late October and November, perhaps a prelude to the hunting seasons in this state.

Chamber

marco in combating the effects of that crisis. He further explained programs now in progress which should aid in a much better year for all of northern Michigan and the Grayling region. He lauded the handsome brochure/business directory, produced by the Chamber, which 8 other northern areas are attempting to copy at this time.

Wayne Andrews, the 1973-74 Chamber President, acted as Master of Ceremonies. Paul J. Thomson, 1974-75 President, presented Wayne with a special gift for his service to the Board of Directors for the years 1971-1972-1973-1974. As Immediate Past President he will remain on the Board for one more year. Also honored for outstanding service to the Board of Directors and receiving commemorative plaques were four outgoing Board members: Connie Stampfily and Dennis Freeman for the years 1971-1972-1973-1974, Albert Westervelt for the years 1970-1971-1972-1973-1974, and Arnold Mauren for the years 1972-1973-1974.

Jerry Morford, City Manager, gave a very appropriate and meaningful invocation. James Hall presented to Marilyn and "Chum" Longworth special cups from EMTA saluting the 50th Winter Sports Festival to take place in February, 1975.

Pres. Thomson reported that the membership drive for the 1974-75 Fiscal Year has been termed a success with 88% of the business community responding with payment of their Membership assessments which represents 80% of the total monies budgeted for membership assessments. Membership totals 200 of which 33 are new members and/or new businesses; however, he stated that it is regrettable that we have approximately 75 businesses, mostly established businesses and not new businesses, who are not members of the Chamber, most of whom have never been members.

Earl H. and Marilyn G. Longworth chaired the 17th Annual Chamber Dinner with special assistance on Thursday evening from Mrs. Fraser Dean, Mrs. George Stancil, Mrs. Paul Thomson, and Mrs. Jack Trudgeon.

Door prizes were donated by the following businesses: Arrowhead Inn, Davis Jewelry, Dawson's, Elias Big Boy Restaurant, Francois Gifts Unusual, Gambles Store, Glen's Market, Grayling Mercantile, Grayling Office Supply, Grayling Pharmacy, Herrud Meats, Holiday Inn of Grayling, Larry & Joan's Place, Marlene's Beauty Salon, Miller Hardware, Olson's of Grayling, Rochette Party Store, Terry's Suzuki Sales/Service, and Village Shop.

Winners of the special drawing conducted by the Chamber were: 1st prize—Steve Sauter of the Marshall Motel; 2nd prize—Mrs. Richard (Donna) Schaeffer of Roscommon; and 3rd prize—James Hall, EMTA, Bay City.
